London, Feb. 7-The Helsingfors, Findland, correspondent of Central News, reported that the man who yesterday shot Procurator General Johnson and who gave the name of Gadd, is in reality a former Finnish student named Lennart Hobenissal. It is not thought political reasons actuated the shooting.

Banished to Siberia.

London, Feb. 7 .- A St. Petersburg dispatch to the Standard says that banishments to Siberia of the revolutionists has started. Monday a hundred and forty who were arrested January 22, started for the Siberian mines. Thousands have been arrested, and many will be shipped to Siberia without having a chance to bid their families farewell.

Warsaw Quiet.

Warsaw, Feb. 7.-The town is quiet. Workmen of large factories and bakeries are still on strike, the masters refusing to concede their demands. Soldiers are still operating the gas works.

He attracted so much attention that after one man who rode a horse as fast as it could go and carried a brace of small cannons had small boy what sort of a curiosity he was, and was told that he was none in particular, only he was the first stranger who had been in town in about two weeks. The attention paid him finally became so embarrassing that Mr. Kennedy asked for a room, and retired to it in fear and trembling. It was not much sleep that he had that night, and he was glad to be up before dawn the following day ready to catch the train out of Jackson. Mr. Kennedy says that he certainly never saw in such a short time before such a large and varied assortment of firearms.

Wolverine, Mich., Feb. 7 .- Trucy Brusso is probably fatally burned and his youngest child, aged three, is dead as the result of a fire that destroyed their home three miles south of here.

Driven from bed by the flames Brusso re-entered the burning house four times to save his wife and three children. Mrs. Brusso and two surviving children are in a serious condition from burns and exposure.

Two Kill Themselves.

Anderson, Ind., Feb. 7 .- Mrs. Robert Campbell was found dead and her husband in a dying condition in their apartments in this city. The coroner found among their possessions a box marked "quinine" but which contained corosive sublimate. They came to Anderson from Norwood, North Dakota, about four months ago.

300 Children's Escape.

Toledo, Feb. 7 .- Three hundred school children had a narrow escape when the school building at Stryker, Ohio, was burned. The fire started in the basement and had spread to the halls before the alarm was given. All the children were rescued through the windows.

Children Burn to Death.

Berlin, Wis., Fe.b 7 .- Three children of Harry Eaton of Poysophi, a boy of five, a girl of three and a baby, burned to a crisp in their home while their parents were away. It is supposed the children played with the fire in the stove. Neighbors with snow attempted to extinguish the flames but failed.

TO THE PEN.

Ride in the Day Coach.

Washington, Feb. 7 .- The bondsmen for August W. Machen, George E. Lorenz, Diller B. Groff and Samuel A. Groff have been directed to surrender the individuals named into custody today. The plan is that the four men convicted of conspiracy to defraud the United States shall start for the West Virginia penitentiary at Moundsville tomorrow afternoon. Machen and his co-conspirators will have as traveling companions about twenty other prisoners, white and colored, sentenced to penitentiary imprisonment. It was rumored today that certain relatives of the four men had planned to accompany them to Moundsville in a Pullman car. According to the jail officials, such a plan, if it exists, must be abandoned, for Machen and his associates are to be part of a regular "batch" and will ride in a day coach.

HUNDREDS OUT AT CHICAGO.

Caused by Strike of Lumber Box and Shaving Teamsters.

Chicago, Feb. 7 .- The closing predict. down of eight sash, door and blind factories by which 900 men were thrown out of employment together two cents an hour by 1,500 wood workers yesterday further complicated matters for wood industries in Chicago.

Officials of the Lumbermen's association announced that more factories will be closed tomorrow and hundreds of men will be thrown out of employment.

Scarcity of material is given as the cause of the shut down. This scarcity is due to a strike of the lumer box and shaving teamsters which has been in progress several days.

As two the better to view the landscape, wrinkled his brow in perplexity.

The sound of galloping hoof beats to the rear caused him to sink into his saddle once more and wait patiently king s man you may not wish to be my until he was overtaken. As his outlook had shown him the woods surrounding the mansion be had left an hour before in an entirely unexpected direction and at a distance not at all proportionate to the time he had spent on horseback, the thought occurred to him that his late detainers had changed their minds regarding his liberation and were pursuing him, but ne was fortified by the knowledge that he possessed a permit written by Cromwell's own hand, which no one in that part of England would dare to disregard. If the oncomer should prove to be a private marauder, of which the country doubtless had many, the horseman reposed a calm confidence in his own blade that gave sufficient repose to his manner. He turned his horse across the lane, completely barring the way. and with knuckles resting on his hip awaited whatever might ensue.

The hastening rider came round a corner, curbing his animal down to a walk on seeing the path blocked. The two horses neighed a greeting to each other. Armstrong was pleased to note that the stranger was a youth with a face as frank and beaming as the day, a face to which his friendly heart went out at once with sympathy, for it seemed glorifled by the morning light. as if he were a lover sure of a warm greeting from his lass, which was indeed the hope that animated the boy.

Arriving as near the impeding horseman as he seemed to think safe, he came to a stand and with a salutation of the hand made inquiry:

"Do you stop me, sir?" This question carried neither challenge nor imputation, for, the times being troubled, no man could be certain that he met a friend on the highway until some declaration was forthcom-

The other laughed cheerily.

You could not have chanced on a better guide, for I was brought up some miles from this spot, although at the moment I am myself on a southern journey. We turn here to the right, but we have far to go before we reach the highway.'

"The more lucky am I, then, that you have overtaken me. 'Twould need a wizard to unravel this tangled skein of green passages."

"Indeed," cried the youth, with a lightsome laugh, "I've often lost myself in their entanglements, and, what is more lasting, I lost my heart as

"There is one thing you have not lost. and that is time. You are just young enough for such nonsense as the latter losing. I am older than you and have lost my way before now, as you may well bear witness, but I have kept my head clear and my heart whole."

"'Tis nothing to boast," said the boy, with an air of experience. "It simply means that you have not ye. met the right woman. When you meet her, you will be in as great a daze as that in which I found you at the crossroads. I hope to get a glimpse of my fair one before I ride farther toward Oxford."

"Then I shall be happy to bear you company if it so pleases you until we come to the parting of our ways-that is, if you are not in haste and can wait until I have a word with my lass, in whose direction we are now tending. She is the most winsome little lady in all the countryside, the only daughter of Lord Rudby, who is'

"Lord Rudby!" echoed Armstrong. "You fly high, my young sir."

Why should I not? Although she is the sweetest angel that ever visited this glad earth, she makes no descent when she joins her hand to mine. I am Thomas Wentworth, eldest son to the late Earl of Strafferd."

They had been traveling knee to knee in the narrow way, but Armstrong pulled up and looked at his companion hurriedly for the leafy tunnel through which Wentworth had passed, but before he found it the lad staggered into sight again, his left hand grasping his breast, his right dragging the sword, his face pale as chalk. "He has killed me!" be gasped.

TOBACCO TAX.

SOON RECEIVE THE CON-SIDERATION OF RUYERS.

Clarksville Tobacco Market Does Not Show Any Improvement.

Clarksville, Tenn., Feb. 7 .-- A letter received from Felix G. Ewing, chairman of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Protective Association, who is in Washington, D. C., gives every encouragement over the success of the tobacco growers. Mr. Ewing stated that Senator Alrick, who is chairman of the committee appointed to consider the relief of the 16-cent tax on tobacco, was in Europe on business and that Senator Allison, of Iowa, was acting in his stead. The latter gentleman is a close friend of Secretary Wilson, who is heartily in favor of the passage of the bill.

Secretary Wilson and Mr. Ewing called on President Roosevelt in the interest of the measure and were greatly encouraged. Mr. Ewing spent one day in Washington and then proceeded to New York to meet representatives of a syndicate who are negotiating for the purchase of the entire crop of dark tobacco held by the Tobacco Growers' Association. The advices from the dark tobacco belt that the trust has purchased 15,000 pounds of tobacco, in spite of the operations of the Farmers' Association, are stoutly denied. It is claimed that the trust has not secured half that amount from the twenty counties in the association. The largest purchases have been made in Tennessee and Western Kentucky, and not over one-fourth of it is said to be suitable for the Italian trade. Even if the trust has secured the amount claimed, that would go but a little way toward filling their contracts, which called for at least 100,000 pounds.

Receipts for January.

Clarksyille, Tenn., Feb. 7 .- The receipts in the local tobacco market for January were 312 hogsheads, shipments 430 hogsheads. The total stocks on February 1 were 1,132 hogsheads, of which buyers held 329 hogsheads and sellers 803 hogsheads. The receipts for the past month were mainly new crop. The receipts this week were 68 hogsheads, sales 34 hogsheads. The quality was poor, market firm to strong. There is little doing in the loose tobacco market, the cold weather preventing the planters delivering their crops to the prizing houses of the Tobacco Growers' Association. The following prices are quoted for old tobacco:

Low lugs$3.50@3.75 Common lugs..... 3.75@4.00 Medium lugs. 4.00@4.25 Good lugs..... 4.25@4.75 Low leaf..... 4.75@5.50 Common leaf 5.75@6.75 Medium leaf..... 7.00@8.00

Non-Union Men Sue Union.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., Feb. 7 .- Twenty-one suits amounting to $147,000 have been filed in the county court here. Each of the suits was for $7,-000. They were filed by the nonunion miners at Brookwood, sixteen miles north of Tuscalosa, against the United Mine Workers of America, district No. 20 of that organization, and the local organization there.

The plaintiffs claim that during the month of October last the local organization made a demand upon the Alabama Consolidated Iron and Coal Company to dismiss from their mines all non-union workers, declaring that if the company should fail to grant their request a strike would be the result and that on account of heavy contracts, which the company was compelled to fill, know ing that a strike would reduce their output, they were compelled to act as the union miners demanded. They allege that from this reason on November 10 they were turned out of their homes and many of them deprived of the bare necessities of life.

The assassin fired the one bullet remaining in his revolver at Soininen's son, wounding him slightly in the calf of his right leg. He then endeavored to escape, but fell unconscious to the floor in the ante-room. The assassin was removed to the surgical hospital, where he lies guarded by police, answering no questions and evidently unconscious. His recovery however, is thought to be certain. Up to the present the authorities have been unable to identify him. Soininen was born in 1856 and practiced at the Finnish bar. He was highly esteemed and had held various government appointments. He was regarded as a wise and patriotic official. It is understood that it was at his initiative that the Finns exiled by Government-General Bobrikoff were allowed to return to Finland.
